

Again and Again

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - did I put myself in the spotlight?

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - am I the one who started this knock-down drag-out?

Oh, you were the prettiest girl I'd ever seen

Hair so golden and eyes so green

When you looked my way I think I just about died

When you said good-bye I could hear myself crying

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - did I put myself in the spotlight?

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - am I the one who started this knock-down drag-out?

Random violations, a thousand little cuts

Your soul is tormented, my soul is lost with you

Finding hidden meanings, assuming wrong intentions

Again and again and again and again

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - did I put myself in the spotlight?

I wanna know - did I call you on the phone?

I wanna know - am I the one who started this knock-down drag-out?
